PRESS RELEASE - OCTOBER 2011

Stunning new FREE Nativity video launched by Friends and Heroes

It's not often that quality resources are given as a gift to churches free of charge, but that's just what Friends and Heroes are doing this Christmas!

He chose the Shepherds is the latest music video from the makers of the award-winning animated Bible adventure series. Ideal for children's ministry or whole-church events, such as Christingle, carol services or other all-age Christmas services, He chose the Shepherds is freely offered to churches to help capture the incredible message of Jesus coming into our world.

"This is a very special song," said Alison Dorricott, Friends and Heroes Executive Producer. "It addresses the mind-blowing mystery of God's incarnation as a baby, which was first revealed to some of the most humble people in that society - shepherds. We sincerely hope that churches today will use this video at Christmas to convey the amazing truth that Jesus came for all of us, regardless of who we are, or our status in society."

This original and powerful video can be viewed and downloaded from www.fandh.tv/nativity

Also available FREE is a special Song Time activity for this video, which can be downloaded from the same link.

Other songs (also with FREE downloadable Song Time activities) are available on the CD What about Love? - Bible songs inspired by Friends and Heroes Series 1, available from the above weblink or from good Christian Bookshops, priced at £13.

He chose the Shepherds is just one of many superb resources for children's ministry from Friends and Heroes. Three series of these highly acclaimed Bible adventure animation DVDs are available at just £15 per DVD. They make great Christmas gifts and with a set of FREE Bible lessons for churches and a different set of lessons for schools (Keystage 1 & 2) available, Friends and Heroes Series packs provide a complete teaching resource.
