

PRESS RELEASE – 16 July 2014

Gloucestershire girl wins international competition!

The Prize: a portable DVD Player of her own to play Friends and Heroes on!

Harriet Seaward, aged 10, from Moreton-in-Marsh, Gloucestershire was recently announced as the winner of a bundle of great prizes in a competition run by Topz and Friends and Heroes.

Friends and Heroes is an award-winning animated series of Bible stories on DVD. Topz is a fun-packed, bi-monthly Bible devotional published by CWR, which aims to teach children biblical truths through word games, puzzles, riddles, cartoons, competitions and simple prayers.

To win the competition Harriet had to correctly answer a series of questions about the story of Ruth from the Old Testament. Her entry was chosen from a multitude of entries received from across the globe.

Harriet's prize, a limited-edition Friends and Heroes DVD player, will allow her to watch her favourite DVDs at home, on holiday and even in the car as she travels. She also received an episode of the popular TV series, a colouring book and a special personalised, framed photograph showing her amongst the Friends and Heroes animated characters (pictured above).

The prize bundle was presented to Harriet during a school assembly led by Friends and Heroes Marketing Director, Brett Pitchfork at St David's Church of England Primary School, at which Harriet is a pupil. Harriet is pictured here receiving her prizes from her headteacher,

Faye Heming.
