PRESS RELEASE - FEB 2012

Chocolate eggs, bunnies and a bank holiday... or is there more to Easter?

It's become another occasion to rival Christmas, with a public holiday, the buying of gifts and cards and the chance to over-indulge in good food and sweet things, but the producers of the Friends and Heroes children's Bible story DVDs, want us to remember the real story behind Easter. And to help remind us of the story, they have produced a special song and video which is offered completely free of charge!

Remember Me is the latest music video from the makers of the award-winning animated Bible adventure series. Ideal for children's ministry or whole-church events at Easter, Remember Me is freely offered to schools, churches and anyone else who'd like to see it, to help capture the incredible message of God's plan of redemption.

"Easter is a special time of the year for Christians, but the message can so often be drowned out by the commercialism surrounding the occasion," said Alison Dorricott, Friends and Heroes Executive Producer. "We want everyone to get a feel for the real Easter and by using our video in schools and churches, or sharing it on Facebook and YouTube, maybe more people will hear the wonderful Good News that is Easter."

This original and powerful video can be viewed and downloaded from friendsandheroes.com/easter

Also available FREE is a special Song Time activity for this video, suitable for children aged 6 -10, which can be downloaded from the same page.

Another 12 songs (with FREE downloadable Song Time activities) can be found on the music CD What about Love? - Bible songs inspired by Friends and Heroes Series 1, available from the above web link or from Christian Bookshops, priced at £13.

Remember Me is just one of many superb resources for children's ministry from Friends and Heroes, including Why does Easter matter? - Five studies about Easter for all ages, with Bible material written by Revd. Stephen Gaukroger, priced at £40.
