Printing our Home Education Project Packs

The Friends and Heroes Home Education Project Manual (for children) is provided as full-colour PDFs and although it will print on both colour and black and white (mono) printers, we would suggest that, if at all possible, you print the pages in colour. The Parent's Guide is provided as black and white PDFs.

If you wish to print the pages in black and white on a colour printer – set the printer to print in 'Greyscale' in the Print Dialog box before you send the file to the printer. All the graphics and images will look just the same but without the colour!

Project Pack structure

Each Project Pack is divided into three chapters; each chapter covers History/Geography, Creative writing, Science, Bible study, Craft and discipleship. There is a wealth of material for your child with ideas in the Parent's Guide on how to adapt assignments for older or younger children. You may want to spend more time on an activity that sparks your child's interest or needs to be studied more in-depth for complete comprehension. Remember this curriculum is your tool not your master! You can create your own pace and schedule. Choose the assignments and subjects you would like to use and fill them in on your planner. Each subject is numbered for your convenience. For example – 6.1.a is Episode 6 (Sweet Freedom), chapter 1, lesson a (lesson a in each chapter is always History/Geography). This would be the numbering for Chapter 1 with X being the number of the episode you are studying:

X.1.a History/Geography; X.1.b Creative writing; X.1.c Bible study; X.1.d Science; X.1.e Craft; X.1.f One on one time.

This CD-ROM contains all the material you will need including: Parents' Overview, Parent's Guide and Project Manual plus designed images for your child to use as covers for their folders; one for Macky's Diary and one for the Project Pack. These images are ready for colouring but if your child is artistic, they may prefer to create their own covers. With a full series pack we also provide a cover for a folder for the Parent's Guides.

For each Project Pack we have provided a Certificate of Achievement which can be presented to your child when they successfully complete a Project Pack. In every Project Pack children have the opportunity to write a diary from Macky's perspective. In the Project Manual there is a Macky's Diary page for your child to write upon but we have also included, on the CD-ROM, a 'papyrus' style Macky's Diary page which can be used as an alternative if you wish those pages to look very different. Please note that this will probably use more printer ink.

Each episode lasts 25 minutes and the detail of when to watch each episode or part episode is given in the Project Manual. There is an option to watch the full episode at the beginning of each chapter but please use your discretion as to whether you feel that is necessary. Sometimes work follows in a chapter where it would be helpful for your child to have had a fresh look at the episode.

DVD screening advice: Playing individual scenes

Each episode is divided into a number of scenes (which can be found in the Scene Selection menu). To select a scene go to the Main Menu and click Scenes and choose the scene you want to watch.

Please note that when you play one of these scenes, your DVD player or laptop will not stop at the end of that particular scene. Instead, it will continue to play the rest of the DVD.

General information

The Project Packs are ideal for children 7 to 11 years of age, although we know that the DVDs are attractive to a much wider age range! The material is self-guided for the child and we have provided a Parent's Guide with answers to questions, ideas for further research, web links etc. We have generally provided web links to the parent rather than to the child in case you have your own rules about internet access (links in the Project Manual are usually to the Friends and Heroes children's website). We have carefully checked that each link we have provided is suitable for children and is available at the time of initial publication. However the Internet can be a moving target and it is possible that a web link may change. If you discover this we would be very happy to hear about it so that we can update our materials. Please write to mail@friendsandheroes.com

Each series (there are 3 altogether), consists of 13 episodes and 13 Project Packs; each episode features at least two themed Bible stories (usually one Old and one New Testament).

To get the best out of each Project Pack, please take time to read both the Project Manual and the Parent's Guide for the Project Pack and watch the relevant episode before your child works through it, so that you are familiar with any materials or preparation required. It is much easier to establish in your own mind the themes, links and echoes between the Bible stories and the 2D adventure story, if you watch the full episode quietly by yourself and in advance. Prior knowledge of the episode is invaluable. Don't be tempted 'to pick it up as you go along' while showing the material to your child.

Fundamentally, this curriculum provides a glimpse into the story of the early church. Its source is the Bible and the historical context in which these events occurred. We encourage you to dive into the word of God with your child as you use this curriculum. You may want to use websites or Bible reference tools such as a Bible handbook to further research the culture of that time. There is also much relevant Biblical, historical and geographical information on our children's website www.friendsandheroes.tv (see below).

Friends and Heroes Home Education Curriculum

Parents' Overview

This curriculum is written to honour all those in the early church who fearlessly spread the gospel, that we too might take the baton and pass the timeless testimonies of faith onto the emerging generation. May your child be encouraged to fearlessly serve God in their generation!

Please remember that you are responsible for the safety of your children – please ensure that the equipment you provide (especially candles and craft tools!) or activities (such as those including nuts and other foodstuffs) are safe for your child and that you follow any national or local policies for home education.

Macky's time and Roman times

Please be aware that some of the things that happened and some of the Roman inventions mentioned in our Project Packs take place beyond the time-scale of the Friends and Heroes series (69 – 71 AD) so Macky wouldn't have been aware of them. We want our Project Packs to be rounded and full of valuable educational information about Roman times for your child and so have included this information. We have endeavoured to make it clear which material is after Macky's time.

Biographies

Macky

Macky is an average fourteen-year-old. He's funny, sometimes hot-headed and courageous and sometimes confused and torn. Like his father, Samuel, he is drawn to the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth but because Alexandria, the town where they live, is under Roman occupation they have to keep their beliefs secret. Macky refuses to give in and dreams of freedom for all those persecuted by the might of Rome. Macky knows the streets and alleyways of Alexandria and the Delta Quarter like the back of his hand and takes part in many exciting secret missions and daring rescues to help the Friends of Jesus and rebels who are particularly persecuted by the Romans. Meeting Portia has quite an effect on both of them and as times goes by they begin to trust each other more and become good friends.

Portia

Portia is a high-born Roman girl who lives with her uncle, Tiberius, a Roman governor. She meets Macky in Friends and Heroes Episode 2 when her horse bolts and Macky rescues her. Portia wears the kind of outfits that a young, high-born Roman would wear. Her clothing is very different to the style of clothing that two of the other Friends and Heroes characters, Rebecca and Leah, who are Jewish, wear. Because of her upbringing, Portia wouldn't realise that some people might think her clothing is immodest – it would just seem normal to her. Although Portia seems proud and stand-offish to begin with, over time she learns more about the faith of Macky's family and begins to think more about her life and what is really important. (This is summed up in Portia's song – www.youtube.com/friendsandheroestv). At the end of her adventures with Macky she has an important decision to make about her future!

DVD Extras

Don't forget that each Friends and Heroes DVD contains extras which you may wish to use with your child too! You can access them by clicking Extras on the DVD menu. Here are some ideas:

- Every DVD contains 2D and 3D stills from the episodes. You could show them, pausing at selected ones and asking your child to tell you what is happening in the picture, or what happens next.
- Your child could also use the 2D and 3D stills as a framework in their narration of the story, or if they enjoy art they may like to copy one of the stills which features a particularly powerful moment.
- On some DVDs the Friends and Heroes music video , Looking for a Hero, is included – play it and see how many Bible characters or stories your child can identify (warning – this is quite tricky!)
- On many DVDs there are quizzes featuring elements from the 2D and 3D stories. Try one out at the end of a chapter or the whole Project Pack to see how much your child has taken in!

Children's website

There is an exciting children's website at www.friendsandheroes.tv which has additional resources that can be used with your child. For example, there are online quiz questions for each episode (these are different questions from the quizzes on the DVDs). These questions change each time the episode is selected!

There are Bible stories to listen to and/or read, so your child can recap the Bible stories they have studied in each Project Pack.

There are also character studies of many of the important Bible characters, descriptions of significant Bible places and research about Bible times and historical objects that formed part of the research undertaken in producing our materials.

The website also includes puzzles and games, some that can be played online, and some that can be printed out to supplement your child's enjoyment of their work with Friends and Heroes. We aim to keep adding to this material, so keep visiting the website!
